

HIGHWAY DEATH TOLL HERE CLIMBS TO 8 IN 3 WEEKS

Death continued to stalk the highways of Washington Township during the week, claiming the lives of two more persons, for a total of eight traffic fatalities in three weeks.

Latest victims were Inez McDonald, 19, of Niles, killed last Thursday night in Newark, and Morris Von Seidletz, 53, an employee of the steel mill at Niles, who died Sunday from injuries received May 1, in an accident at Niles.

Miss McDonald died less than an hour after the car in which she was riding was involved in a crash at the intersection of Thornton Avenue and Cherry Road in Newark. Her companion, and driver of the car, was Henry Marshall Jr. of Niles, who suffered a fractured leg and internal injuries.

According to the report of the investigating officers, Marshall was driving south on Thornton Avenue about 11:30 p.m. when his car collided with the rear of a car driven by Lance Lester Taylor, 800 Hillside Drive, Niles. Taylor had driven his machine onto Thornton Avenue from Cherry Road in an easterly direction. After striking the Taylor car, Marshall's car came out of control into a large tree near the intersection. The injured were rushed to Fairmont Hospital in the Township Ambulance.

DEATH TOLL INCREASES

Von Seidletz died Sunday in a Hayward hospital from internal injuries suffered last Tuesday, May 1, when his car collided on First Street in Niles with a car driven by Miss Mary Virginia Bristow. Von Seidletz' car ran part way up a power pole guy wire and overturned, following the impact of the two cars.

Other residents killed in traffic accidents or who succumbed from injuries suffered in accidents during the past three weeks are: Miss Flora Urrutia, Centerville, Mrs. Helen Spaulding, Livermore, and Manuel Rodriguez, Centerville, killed April 30 near Centerville; Sam George Trujillo, Decoto, killed April 14 on the road to Livermore; Edward A. Chavez, Decoto, who died April 14 from injuries suffered in a Newark crash on March 14, and Mark Anthony Santos, 2-year-old Newark boy, crushed beneath the wheels of a delivery truck on April 12.

SERVICES MONDAY

Funeral services were held Monday at the parlors of the Berge Mortuary Company in Niles for Miss McDonald, conducted by the Rev. Robert F. Hakes, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Niles. Interment was at Santa Clara City Cemetery.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McDonald of Niles; sister of Al McDonald, Oklahoma, Mrs. Lora Floyd, Arkansas, Mrs. Bertha Hill, Texas, Mrs. Evelyn Wood, Washington, Mrs. Opal Norris, Mrs. Josephine Knox, Mrs. Juanita Goines, Herbert and Ed.

STUDENT SPEAKERS NAMED BY W.U.H.S.

Margaret Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Cole of Niles, and Orbie Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Robertson of Irvington, have been selected as commencement student speakers, according to an announcement from Washington Union High School.

The selection was made by a committee of faculty members who were asked by J. V. Gould, principal, to cast their votes for one Senior girl and one Senior boy.

The choice was made on the basis of the following: school citizenship, scholastic standing, and the ability to speak in public.

STATE OWNERSHIP OF BAY BRIDGES WINS BACKING HERE

A delegation of sixteen civic leaders of Washington Township made the trip to Sacramento yesterday to appear in behalf of the proposal for the state acquisition of Dumbarton and San Mateo bridges.

Seven of the eight communities of the township were represented by delegates. The group left Centerville on a special bus donated for the trip by Harry Gaeta, president of Peerless Stages, and picked up delegates from Hayward and San Leandro enroute to Sacramento.

Making the trip by bus as representatives of their individual Chambers of Commerce were: Fred Melhase, Paul Gyagax, Jake Jacobsen, Joe Pashote, Gordon Cotton and Walter Cotton, Newark; Joe Lewis, Alvarado; Maurice Marks, Mission San Jose; Bernie Joseph and Manuel Seane, Decoto; Gus Robertson, Irvington; Gene Manning, Judge Allen G. Norris and Loren Marriott, Centerville.

Dr. T. C. Wilson and Jack Parry, representing the Niles Chamber of Commerce, made the trip in Wilson's airplane.

The proposal for the state to take over the ownership of the bridges won the endorsement of all East Bay communities.

MALARIA VICTIMS CAN GIVE BLOOD

Over a hundred were present at the Red Cross luncheon last Friday at the International Kitchen to hear Mrs. Marie Adams, Red Cross worker at Oak Knoll Hospital, tell of the need for blood donors. Also present were wounded veterans from Korea, to tell of the benefits of the blood donor program.

Mrs. W. L. McWhirter of Centerville, Washington Township chairman of the blood donor service, revealed this week a change in policy for malaria victims. "It's good news for former victims of malaria that they can now be blood donors if they have been free from malaria for two years."

Mrs. McWhirter emphasized the need for continued support of the blood donor program in this area. "Those who wish to contribute for the next blood donor day (May 21) should get in touch with their town chairman," she said.

The names of the chairmen will be printed in next week's Register.

INSTALLATION FOR COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. A. E. Alameda was installed as president of the Country Club for the second consecutive year at colorful ceremonies at the club house in Centerville.

Mrs. Roland Bendel, the installing officer, presented each new officer with a corsage.

Other officers are as follows: vice-president, Mrs. LeRoy Brown; secretary, Mrs. Allan Hirsch; financial secretary, Mrs. Maurice Marks; treasurer, Mrs. Roy Clak. The board of directors is comprised of Mrs. L. E. Bailey, Mrs. Florence Myrick and Mrs. Esther Burch.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the presentation to the Club by the Arts Appreciation Section of a beautiful new ecru lace tablecloth, something the Club has needed for a long time.

TEACHER GROUP TALKS FORMATION OF UNION HERE

More than 30 public school teachers of Washington Township met at the Irvington Elementary School on Tuesday evening for a discussion on the formation of a teachers' organization in this area.

Present at the meeting were faculty members from Alvarado, Centerville, Decoto, Irvington, Newark, Niles and Mission San Jose elementary schools and Washington Union High School.

Many of the teachers present expressed their belief that there is a need for an organization here, whether or not it is affiliated with any labor union.

The guest speaker of the evening was Edward Ross, vice-president of the American Federation of Teachers of California, an affiliate of the A. F. of L.

He discussed the role of the A.F.T. in the nation and stated that it is affiliated locally with the Oakland Labor Council and the California Labor Council.

He made a comparison of the teacher salary schedules for this area, Oakland, and the state as a whole.

The group voted to hold another meeting in the near future to continue the discussion of the feasibility of the formation of an organization.

Co-chairmen of the meeting were Dick Mancuso and Auvel C. McLaughlin of Irvington.

DAMAGES OF HALF MILLION SOUGHT

A Decoto widow last Thursday filed a $500,480 damage suit in Alameda County Superior Court. The action was brought by Mrs. Marie Chavez, 28, on behalf of herself and her four minor children, following the death of her husband, Edward A. Chavez, as the result of a highway crash.

Chavez was injured in Newark on March 14 when his auto collided with a heavily laden truck and trailer owned by the United Concrete Pipe Corporation of Stockton. He died from injuries on April 14 in an Oakland hospital.

Mrs. Chavez, through her attorney, Edward A. Plotner of Oakland, has named the pipe company and Marian F. Minturn, 37, of Stockton, driver of the truck, as defendants in the suit.

HONOR ROLL BOARD TO BE DISMANTLED

The Centerville Lions Club's Honor Roll, located adjacent to the Cloverdale Creamery in Centerville, is to be dismantled as the result of action voted at Tuesday evening's meeting.

Members reported that they had received complaints on the appearance of the Honor Roll and that the list of names of men from the township who served in the armed forces during World War II was incomplete.

Following a lengthy discussion it was voted by the members that the roll be removed and a more functional permanent memorial project be undertaken.

President Edw. L. Rose announced that he would appoint a committee within the next two weeks to present proposals for consideration.

NUMBER OF MEASLE CASES SETS RECORD

Based on records compiled by the Alameda County Health Department the year 1951 will go down in history as the Year of the Measles.

Dr. James C. Malcolm, county health officer, reported this week that a total of 1,038 cases of measles in Southern Alameda County have been reported to his office since the first of the year.

By way of comparison, Dr. Malcolm checked last year's files and learned that but 25 cases had been reported from January 1 until April 29 in 1950.

On the brighter side, the number of cases of chickenpox dropped from 238 of last year to 164 for the same period this year.

ANNUAL CARNIVAL AT NEWARK MAY 26

Newark's fifth annual Carnival-Bazaar is to be staged at the Newark Elementary School on Saturday evening, May 26, it was revealed this week.

Presented annually as a benefit for the youth organizations of the community, the entertainment has established itself as one of the gayest and most hilarious projects of this area.

Mrs. Kay Kettman will serve as general chairman of the affair this year and the stage show, "Gay Parade," will be presented under the direction of Harry Houston.

Houston said this week that two performances of the stage show will be presented, at 7 and 8:30 p.m., featuring a chorus line of beautiful girls and outstanding entertainers.

As in past years, the midway of entertainment booths is expected to draw a capacity crowd.

CEREMONIES HERE WEDNESDAY WILL FETE NEW CITIZENS

Seven residents of Washington Township will be honored at the impressive "I Am an American" day ceremonies to be staged at Washington Union High School on Wednesday, May 16.

The guests of honor will be feted on their having successfully completed the citizenship course of study at Washington Evening School, making them eligible to become American citizens.

FROM THREE COUNTRIES

The new citizen candidates are: Leon Diola, Irvington, native of the Philippines; Marino Quinday, Irvington, native of the Philippines; Carlotta Renteria, Alvarado, native of Mexico; Antonio Ruelas, Decoto, native of Mexico; Vicky Teodosio, Centerville, native of the Philippines; Pacifico Timtiman, Irvington, native of the Philippines; and Lorna Bauhofer, Centerville, native of Australia.

Judson Taylor, instructor of the citizenship course at the evening school will present the seven honored guests with certificates marking the completion of their course.

Participating in the ceremony will be several patriotic organizations including the American Legion, V. F. W. Paul Rivers Post and the Vallejo Mills Post.

INTERESTING PROGRAM

In addition to the high school band which will play several numbers under the direction of Mr. Dwight Thornburg, there will be other musical selections including a vocal solo, "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You," sung by Miss Sumi Kato.

Also scheduled to appear on the program are: Jack Pool, who will speak on "Washington Township and Defense"; a spring dance performed by members of the Japanese Citizenship League of Southern Alameda County; a talk, "I Am an American," by Stanley Peterson, assistant director of civil defense for Alameda County; and a demonstration of first aid by the Warm Springs Fire Department, with Clyde Voorhees as the narrator.

The public is invited to attend.

NEWARK CHAMBER MEET

Movies taken during the dedication in 1939 of the fire house will feature the program of the Newark Chamber of Commerce meeting next Tuesday night, May 15, at the Youth Center building. A corps of ladies from the Legion Auxiliary will spend those two days in each community of the township selling the poppies as a benefit for the rehabilitation of the war veterans and to aid children effected by war.

DECOTO TREEVIEW TRACT FAILS TO GET COUNTY OKEH

The Treeview Corporation's plan for an additional 600-home tract across the highway from its Tareyton Village at Decoto received another setback this week.

The members of the Alameda County Planning Commission failed to approve the corporation's re-submitted plans for the subdivision on the basis that it still offered unsatisfactory treatment of the problem of storm drainage.

The revised plan was handed over to the Alameda County Board of Supervisors Tuesday by the Planning Commission with the recommendation that it not be approved.

The original map of the proposed subdivision, which was presented to the Planning Commission in March, was rejected because of what was termed an inadequate solution of the drainage problem.

The request by Westvaco Chemical Corporation that the county abandon unused roads on its property to allow for plant expansion was approved by the Planning Commission.

Also approved was the request that one block of Seventh Street in Decoto be abandoned. The request was made by the Holy Rosary Church, owner of the property, to clear the way for the construction of a new recreation hall.

POLICE HOLD PAIR FOR NILES ROBBERY

Two San Francisco Negroes are in the custody of the sheriff's office pending the filing of petty theft charges against them for the pilfering of the cash drawer in the Cozzi Variety Store in Niles on Wednesday.

According to Mrs. Peggy Cozzi, owner of the store, the two men entered the store about 1:30 p.m. One of them made a purchase and after the cash drawer had been opened to make change, the other man stepped to the opposite side of the counter to make a purchase. While the clerk's attention was diverted the cash drawer was pilfered of $32.

When the two men left, without waiting for their change, the clerk became suspicious and a quick check of the money revealed the robbery.

The car in which the two men made their getaway was noticed by passersby and the alarm radioed to all sheriff's patrol cars.

The two men were nabbed by sheriff's deputies at the monument between Walnut Creek and Concord about 3:15 p.m.

They gave their names as Chester Alex Maxwell, 25, of 1730 Turk Street, San Francisco, and Willie Lee Knight, 32, 1925 Laguna Street, San Francisco.

Maxwell admitted the theft but told deputies that he took but $20. They are expected to appear in Niles Justice Court today (Friday) for arraignment on the charge.

STANLEY TO SPEAK AT MISSION C. OF C.

Chester A. Stanley, county supervisor, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Mission San Jose Chamber of Commerce to be held next Monday evening at the school. The meeting has been set for 8 o'clock, and President Maurice Marks is urging all Mission San Jose residents to attend, as important community planning is coming up for discussion.

Because of the tremendous expansion expected in Mission San Jose, which is conceded to be the preferred residential area in this region, the cooperation of the townspeople in planning for this growth is a matter of necessity, according to Marks.

Stanley and Herman Medeiros, safety committee chairman, have collaborated in outlining preliminary steps in planning the expansion program, and it is this program that will be discussed by Stanley at Monday night's meeting.

Nathan Click, school principal, is program chairman for the evening.

Board Continues Drive For Local Hospital

Determination to continue their endeavors for a hospital for this area, even without the benefit of state or federal financial assistance, was voiced by the directors of the Washington Township Hospital District at their meeting Wednesday evening.

"The residents of Washington Township voted the establishment of a district and elected directors for the purpose of providing this area with a hospital," L. S. Whitaker, president of the board, said. "I feel, therefore, that it is our duty to continue to study all possibilities of providing a hospital here with or without state and federal aid."

ANNUAL FESTIVAL TO HOLY GHOST AT MISSION SUNDAY

The annual Holy Ghost Festival of the I.D.E.S. Council No. 1 of Mission San Jose will be staged Saturday and Sunday at Mission.

Reigning over the festivities will be Queen Marlene Dutra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dutra of Irvington, with Miss Barbara Castro and Miss Dolores Tibbets as her attendants.

Marching with the queen as attendants will be Marlene Mendoza, Judy Strub, Carol Ann Rose and Patsy Perreira, all of Irvington. The cape bearers will be Kathy Lewis and Jimmy Betten-court, both of Centerville.

The festival will open on Saturday evening with the attendants parading with the band to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Brown to get the queen, then to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Abreu to get the crown. The procession will then return to the I.D.E.S. grounds where there will be dancing from 9 p.m. until 1 a. m. to the music of Fred Costa and his Four Kings.

Sunday morning the parade will leave the I.D.E.S. Hall grounds at 9:30 o'clock and proceed to St. Joseph's Church where high mass will be sung at 10:30 a.m. by Father John Leal.

After mass a picnic will be served at the I.D.E.S. Hall for which donations will be accepted. The remainder of the day's festivities will include the auction and dancing.

Joseph P. Garcia is chairman of the committee in charge of the festivities.

ANY RESEMBLANCE of the two "characters" in the middle to Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Batman of Niles is coincidental. They are shown reviewing the script of the stage play, "The Square Needle," which opened at the Downtown Theater in San Francisco yesterday. On the left is Wayne Morris. On the right is Victor Jory. Both of these movie actors have leading parts in the play.

Thinking Things Over...

By VIVIAN BATMAN

AT THE REHEARSAL

Don't ask me why I have my picture in this week's paper. It came as a surprise—and something of a shock—even to me.

There we were—the editor and I—attending a rehearsal of the play, "The Square Needle," in San Francisco as guests of the author,

Sam Taylor, when all of a sudden someone said (maybe it was me) "It would give a nice local angle to the story of the play for The Register if we had some local people in the picture, with Wayne Morris and Victor Jory."

So, since we were the only local people present, the first thing you know, there we were, up on the stage, flanked by movie stars Morris and Jory, the main characters in the play.

Looking at Mr. Jory's flashing black eyes and captivating smile, I suggested that as long as we were having a picture taken, maybe it would be nice to stage a kind of love scene.

The photographer brushed this aside with, "We are not making movies, Mrs. Batman. This is simply a publicity still for—what's the name of that paper?"

"The Township Register," I said, deflated. "It's in Niles."

Before anybody could ask where Niles is, Mr. Jory had cut in with, "Now Mrs. Batman, if you'd just hold this script-book up a little higher, we can get on with this shot."

I moved the book up higher. "Higher still," said Mr. Jory. When it completely covered my face, Mr. Jory said, "Now that's fine."

I was smarter than he was though. Just a second before the photographer flashed his bulb, I lowered the book so my face would show. Now I wish I hadn't. There is something about the expression on my face that is reminiscent of somebody acting like a goldfish. So Mr. Jory must have known what he was doing. But everybody can't be a Lana Turner.

After the pictures were taken, the producer said, "Now before the rehearsal, let me warn you. At rehearsals, nobody runs up and down the aisles, nobody whispers, nobody coughs, nobody sneezes. It disturbs the actors and the director."

"Is it all right if we breathe?" I cut in.

He gave me a withering look and went on, "And—NOBODY EATS POPCORN!"

"Look," I said to the director, "you don't have to warn me about popcorn. For years I have been searching for a theater where you could get a guarantee of 'no popcorn.'"

With that final bit of repartee we sat down and waited for the rehearsal, quiet as mice.

I could see why they had to keep the aisles cleared. The aisles are for the director. He paces up and down them. Thirty paces up, then ten back. All the time he is waving a pipe around dramatically... and taking an occasional puff on it. Every time he called out a direction to the feminine lead, Carol Thurston, he'd precede it with "Dear," or "Honey," or "Darling"... "A little more feeling, dear," "Pause a little on that line, darling," "Cut in there a little faster, honey."

"He must be in love with her," I whispered.

Somebody sitting close by set me straight on that one. "All Hollywood people call everybody 'dear' and 'darling.'"

Just then Wayne Morris, wearing a beautiful red plaid shirt, had a funny line to say. I thought it was so funny that I started to laugh out loud, and remembered just in time that I wasn't supposed to laugh, so I tried to choke it, and it ended up in a hiccup. The producer had warned us against coughs and sneezes, but had said nothing about hiccoughs, so I went merrily on hiccoughing, wishing desperately for a drink of water, but not daring to walk up the aisle to get one. I thought of climbing over the rows of seats to the back of the theater, but sensed that this, too, might disrupt things. So all I could do was go on hiccoughing.

Then things began to get very tense on the stage. The actors were kind of snapping at each other and at the director. Then the director walked up the aisle more than his customary thirty

COMEDY HIT NOW IN SAN FRANCISCO

The Samuel W. Taylor three-act hilarious stage hit, "The Square Needle," had its opening last night before an enthusiastic crowd of show-goers. The comedy is playing at the Downtown Theater, Ellis and Mason Streets, San Francisco's newest home for legitimate shows.

"The Square Needle," starring movie stars Victor Jory, Wayne Morris and Carol Thurston, will be presented every night except Sunday at 8:30. Matinees will play on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Author and playwright Taylor, whose latest book, "Family Kingdom," just hit the book stores, is particularly happy over the cast of stage artists who appear in the play. "The Square Needle" had a ten-week run at the Las Palmas Theater in Hollywood, and is being presented with different actors in San Francisco who will carry the show on to Chicago and thence to New York.

Taylor has based his show on his actual experiences in the Army, in the Public Relations Office with the Air Force in London during the last war. James Flavin, Ted Stanhope, Tom Greenway, Michael Barrett, Walter Kelly, Joel Marston, Jan Arvan and Erica Hall are among those in the cast who keep the show going at a fast pace.

Mail orders will be accepted by the theater box office as well as by Sherman Clay, both in San Francisco and Oakland, producers T. J. McGowan and T. F. Holland announced.

IRVINGTON PROMENADERS TO HAVE BARBECUE

The Irvington Promenaders, folk-dancing group, will gather at the Michael Overacker ranch in Mission San Jose this Saturday night for a barbecue. They will wind up the evening by folk-dancing.

SUPERVISORS PLAN STATE FAIR BOOTH

Supervisor Chester E. Stanley announced this week that Alameda County will play an important part in the 1951 California State Fair at Sacramento. Stanley will encourage the vegetable growers in Washington Township to participate in the open classes, it was announced.

A new location in the main agricultural pavilion has been assigned to the county and a new exhibit is being planned by the Board of Supervisors.

In the main Hall of Flowers the county will have a colorful floral display. Planning the floral setting are two prominent county growers, Frank Horton of Hayward and Charles Perry of San Leandro.

Members of the Japanese American Citizens League, Washington Township Chapter, have been invited to take part in the fair.

YOUR CHILDREN'S EDUCATION?

May 8, 1951

Tonight we are sick with worry. We have attended a meeting of the teachers of Washington Township—a meeting to discuss our mutual problems—both personal and educational. For the first time in the history of this area, the teachers have initiated a concerted effort to bring to the people of Washington Township the plight of their teachers.

The discussion brought out the fact that the teachers in this township are making much less than unskilled labor. Do you want YOUR CHILDREN taught by unskilled personnel? May we cite an example? Could you and your family live on $50 a week? Many teachers in the township are attempting it on less. Does it cost less for a teacher to live than YOU? Here are actual figures which can be obtained by any registered voter in Alameda County by asking for them at your school, or the county office of education. Average gross salaries for elementary schools listed:

	Annual	Monthly
Centerville	$2,866	$238
Decoto	2,904	242
Niles	3,155	263
Irvington	3,190	264
Alvarado	3,375	281

An excellent comparison is the Oakland school districts which have an average yearly gross salary of $4,100, or a bricklayer whose average yearly gross salary is $5,100.

Please consider this letter seriously because unless salaries are increased—SOON—you will be faced with the problem of untrained teachers in your schools. The men teachers, especially, who are badly needed in our elementary schools, can not afford to hold their positions much longer.

You and your children will suffer.

Signed,

FOUR ELEMENTARY SCHOOL TEACHERS

The reasons our names are withheld are obvious.

RESERVATIONS NOW FOR BRIDGE PARTY

Those who attend the dessert-bridge at Ford Pilgrim Hall in Niles next Thursday, May 17, are in for a treat in the way of table prizes. The prizes are handmade pottery ramekins, made at the high school by members of the Ladies Guild which is sponsoring the affair.

Reservations, either single or for a table, may be made with Mrs. Edna Overacker, Mrs. J. C. Shinn Jr. of Mrs. George Bonde. The price of tickets is one dollar.

Those in charge are urging that reservations be made early in order to avoid disappointment, for the Ladies Guild parties are always well patronized. Those who prefer to play canasta should bring their own cards.

JOB OPENINGS FOR HIGH SCHOOL GRADS

High school seniors scheduled for June graduation can find careers in government despite their lack of work experience, according to Harry T. Kranz, director of the 12th Civil Service Region.

"Government agencies, especially in the defense field, are actively seeking young men and women for trainee positions as operators of office machines," said Mr. Kranz. "Successful applicants for the trainee positions are paid $2,450 a year while learning and can look forward to rapid advancement when their apprenticeship is over."

For most of these positions, the only examination required is an aptitude test designed to determine the speed and accuracy with which applicants locate numbers. Application forms may be obtained at any first or second class post office or by writing to the U. S. Civil Service Commission, 630 Sansome Street, San Francisco.

San Francisco is headquarters for the Twelfth Federal Reserve District.

DAY BY DAY IN DECOTO

By GRACE CAMINADA

TO THE MOTHERS

This year this Sunday, Mother's Day has 3 extra meanings to me. No one except a mother can express herself when she is called "Mother" by her youngsters. I could hardly appreciate the sacrifices, the work and hardships my mother went through when I was a youngster but now as a mother of three, I can understand what all mothers are required to do to be privileged to be called by that title. So here's to you mothers for not just a day, but for all days. Wear your gifts, smell your flowers and be honored that you also are on parade, as I am.

THREE CHEERS!

Three cheers for the W.U.H.S. band that won second place in the Los Banos parade last Sunday. There were about twenty other bands represented in the procession.

SOME CHANGES

There are several new changes in the Holy Rosary Church. First, Father Ralph Duggan now has a phone which, by the way, is Decoto 5751. Second, the new organist is Mrs. Joseph Terra who has played at the services before. Margaret Williams, who had been at the organ until several weeks ago, is playing for the 8:30 a.m. services at the Corpus Christi Church in Niles.

A POSTPONEMENT

Many who are planning to attend Holy Communion on Mother's day, May 13, will be interested to know that the ceremonies have been postponed until May 27. On that day, crowning of the Blessed Virgin will be held, as well as a May Day procession. In a week or so I'll have the names of all the boys and girls receiving first Holy Communion.

VISIT RELATIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Perry of Twelfth Street motored to Richmond last Sunday afternoon to visit relatives.

NEW EMPLOYEE

Mrs. John Garcia of Tenth St. has added her charm and personality to the personnel department of Lustig Hardware Company in Hayward.

ANNIVERSARY FETED

Eight years have passed since Mr. and Mrs. Lester Mederos said "I do" but to them it doesn't seem that long ago. Last Saturday evening the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mederos and Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Souza of San Leandro stopped in at several night spots, among them the Acapulco in Lafayette, where they enjoyed a delicious dinner and dancing. Congratulations.

AT GARDEN SHOW

Private Bill Gomez and his wife, Marie, Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Souza of San Leandro and Mrs. Lester Mederos attended the California Spring Garden Show last Wednesday.

IN HAYWARD RODEO

The Southern Alameda County Horsemen's Association is going to ride at the Hayward Rodeo parade on Saturday, May 19. The officers elected at their last meeting were: Eloyd Cambra, president; Jerry Brown, vice-president; Henrietta Cambra, secretary; and Joe Valenzuela, treasurer.

SYMPATHY

My deepest sympathy is expressed to Louis J. Fine who lost his mother, after a lingering illness, on May 1.

OVER THREE TONS!

Three and a half tons of paper. Yes, that's the amount collected on the Boy Scout paper drive. Scoutmaster Lester Mederos wishes to thank everyone from the bottom of his heart. He also announces another paper drive will be on in approximately three months. So please save the papers from today on. Many thanks again, everyone.

MEETING TONIGHT

Let's not forget the Civilian Defense meeting tonight (Friday) at the Decoto Elementary School at 8 o'clock.

PICNIC SUNDAY

Another reminder is for the picnic Sunday at Stonybrook Park, sponsored by the Sons of Italy in America Lodges of the East Bay.

HOLY ROSARY GUILD

The Holy Rosary Guild held its monthly meeting last Tuesday evening with President Stella Caldeira conducting the meeting. A letter of resignation was received from Mrs. Frank Scorpiniti, former vice-president. The resignation was accepted and Mary Janeiro was chosen the new vice-president.

Mrs. Louis King was nominated a chairman of a committee to supply meals for the volunteer help working on the church building on week-ends. The dedication of the cornerstone, which was donated by A. Gomez Bros. of Hayward, was discussed to be held at a near future ceremony.

Father Duggan complimented Marie Terra upon the accompanying of the organ at last Sunday's services, with the congregation's hymn singing. Mrs. Florence Wallace will also assist Mrs. Terra. An announcement was made that the "dugout" will be the regular meeting place of the Guild commencing with the June meeting.

Mrs. Elmer Peixotto was chosen as alternative representative of the Guild at the church building committee meeting. A food sale will be held on June 17 with Mrs. Marie Terra as chairman. She named on her committee Mrs. Rocha, Mrs. Tony Bettencourt, Mrs. John Luna and Mary Janeiro.

Mrs. McWhirter, guest of the evening, spoke about the township welfare organization. The membership, limited to 35 members, has done everything from making formulas to teaching first aid.

trimmed before weighing

THE gentleman in the picture at the left has a good point. There's no need now for any homemaker to serve a rib roast that has excess bone and fat and tough meat on it. Safeway's method of trimming removes these waste parts—you get a roast that's easy to cook, easy to carve, and just wonderful to eat. Consider the value, too. You get more for your money in meat that is properly trimmed before weighing (as all Safeway meats are). See diagram at left.

The FARMERS CORNER
by Ralph H. Taylor
Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

NATIONAL FARM

UNEMPLOYMENT TAX DRIVE

Failing to legislate America's farm workers under unemployment insurance by frontal attack in Congress, advocates of the seemingly innocuous proposal have shifted fire to state legislatures in an effort to place sufficient state bodies on record to force Congress's hand.

The apparent strategy, observers of the nationwide plan concur, is that if enough state legislatures can be persuaded to pass stand-by legislation (to apply if and when the federal Congress acts) bringing agricultural employees under unemployment insurance, proponents then can return to Congress and say, in effect: "Look! Empty-ump states already have expressed their opinions and are just waiting for Congress to act on this matter. Let's get the ball rolling." Congress, the theory goes, would have to act.

Pending before the California Legislature are a number of measures geared to bringing farm workers under the unemployment insurance act.

One of the chief measures is Assembly Bill 3179. It is the stand-by bill. Experience indicates that the inclusion of agricultural workers within the scope of unemployment insurance will either bankrupt the fund or force farmers to pay a tax of approximately 15 per cent on their payrolls. That will bankrupt the farmers.

Senate Bill 490 would bring all regularly employed agricultural workers under unemployment insurance on the same basis as the recent federal amendments brought such workers under the Old Age and Survivors Insurance. Five months of continuous service for one employer, earning at least $50 in each quarter and $300 after the first quarter, would qualify the worker to receive unemployment insurance benefits. A seasonal worker might, therefore, also be a "regularly employed" farm worker and qualify before the end of his seasonal employment. Six months work for one employer would make it possible for such a worker to collect benefits for the next six months.

Under S. B. 490, a regular farm employee earning $50 a quarter (90 days) begins in the second quarter to build up credits for himself toward unemployment insurance benefits. Unless this employee works 60 days in the second quarter, for the same employer, he at the end of 150 days continuous employment, the employee (meeting other general requirements) presumably would be qualified for benefits. As much farming is on the basis of peak employment from six to nine months of the year, a great number of farm employees would be drawing unemployment insurance part of every year. The Department of Employment estimates the passage of this measure would affect 43,300 agricultural employees of 20,000 farm employers. There is chance for wide fluctuations in these figures.

Interestingly, though supported by some labor spokesmen, the proposals would have an adverse effect on farm workers, too. Should the farm employee quit or lose his job—for even one day—during the 150 days when qualifying for benefits, he would lose all benefits and would have to start over again towards qualifying. Thus, the effect of the proposals would be to force farm workers to keep working for one employer to protect their benefits. Traditionally, labor spokesmen have championed the right of employees to be free to shift their places of employment as they wished.

The upshot of the entire affair is that: (1) farm workers would find benefits coming at a price of loss in individual freedom to change jobs; (2) farmers would have to assume a bookkeeping and reporting task of no little proportion; and (3) the public undoubtedly would end up footing a larger bill at the end of the year. And whatever California's decision is in all this, Congress will be affected too.

Carlson revealed that permits were issued for the construction of 20 duplex dwellings and seven new commercial buildings.

Ag Scientists Battle Oriental Fruit Flies

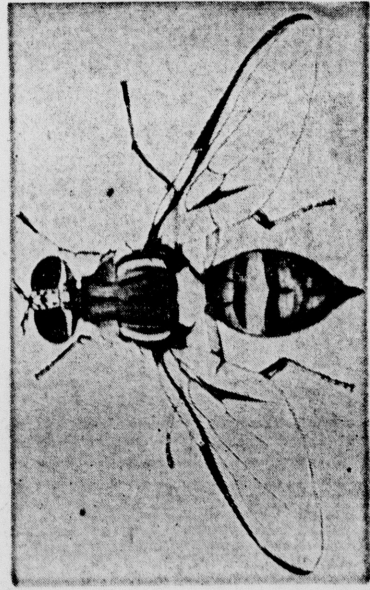

BERKELEY. To be prepared for possible invasion of California by the Oriental fruit fly, University of California College of Agriculture scientists are engaged in a five-pronged research program on two campuses—Davis and Riverside—and in the Hawaiian Islands, China and Formosa.

Nearly a million dollars is being invested by federal, state, and territorial agencies in the program aimed at killing or controlling the pest, now prevalent in Hawaii but not present in California or elsewhere in the country.

This sum is small compared with the potential losses to growers, should the fly ever be introduced to the state. The insect is known to be a serious threat to delicious and citrus fruits, avocados, vegetables and walnuts.

Research is organized in five major groups: Commodity treatment to kill the insects on mature fruit without impairing flavor or appearance; biological control with natural enemies of the fly; chemical control, or insecticides; area control, or development of control techniques under different area and climatic conditions; and ecological and biological studies of the fly's life history, habits and ability to survive in different climates and environments.

First sign of the fly in Hawaii was in 1916. It was known to be a serious crop pest in the Orient, but had never been identified in the United States.

MIGHTY C. V. P.

In California, where nearly everything is big, one of the mightiest of man's handiworks—the Central Valley Water Project—is nearing completion.

Celebrations of the completion of several major parts of the project will be held this year including the Crossroads Event, marking completion of the Friant-Kern Canal in McFarland, May 13.

Aug. 1 to 10 the completion of the Tracy pumping plant, which brings the surplus waters of the Sacramento from the Delta to Mendocino, will be feted. While the cover picture may be symbolic of the magnitude of the project, the project itself is symbolic of man's triumph over his environment.

Adventure Down Mexico Way

By HAL MASSON

Freshly laid macadam from Mexico on the border to San Felipe, a hundred and twenty-five miles south in Baja California, has greased the hinges on the gateway to the world's best fishing. What was formerly a hideous nightmare of gasless, oilless and waterless gravel-and-bumps is now a sixty-mile-an-hour highway with hardly a curve or a hill. You just set your compass and give her the gun.

I have just returned from a trip to San Felipe and I guarantee that, even without the prospect of pulling in twenty fish an hour, it would be well worth doing. There are at least four outstanding spectacles. At the halfway point there are two miles of sanddunes from six to forty feet high. The sand is minutely fine grains, the smallest particles picked up by the wind on the opposite side of the mountain ridge and dropped in the lee in capricious spirals and hog-backs and valleys.

The mountains themselves are huge crimpings of lava, completely void of life but startling
